OTHER TEACHING ACTIVITIES

- SPAN 6503 Professional Portfolio: Created modular course content to integrate target language practice activities for graduate students. Advocated for professional language coaching to be a part of the curriculum. Added scaffolding exercises to each assessment to facilitate independent work. (2023)
- SPAN 3813 Special Topics: Developed the course “Spanish TV Series,” an interdisciplinary analysis of a Spanish novel and TV series: El Tiempo entre Costuras. Students watch the series, read excerpts from the novel, and learn about the time period of the Spanish Civil War and WWII from Spain’s perspective. They explore complex characters and complicated concepts like Francisco Franco’s dictatorship in Spain, and espionage during WWII. (2022)
- SPAN 3151 Conversation Practicum: Chat Challenge: Modified this practicum into a chat challenge for conversation practice. Students participate in in-class discussions and engage in ongoing conversations with Spanish speakers all over the world, using multiple technologies. Students gain confidence in speaking as well as in using technology to connect with native Spanish speakers for real-time conversation practice. The challenge is to see how many native speakers they can talk to by the end of the semester. (2021)
- SPAN 4102 Spanish for the Professions: Created this course, an advanced study of the language needed for use in specific professions, such as human resources, computer science and technology, the legal system, banking and finance, and social services. It focuses on specialized vocabulary building and the cultural nuances of the Spanish speaking-world. Enhances language proficiency and critical thinking skills through reading, analysis, translation, and presentations. (2020)
- SPAN 3813 Special Topics: Developed the course “Spanish in Media & Pop Culture,” a culture-based course that incorporates clips of Spanish television shows and movies, social media memes,

- music, and human-interest stories to engage students in interesting conversations on a variety of topics. Enhances analytical skills in Spanish through lecture, reading, and discussion. (2017)
- Designed, and developed 3000 level courses for the Summer Spain Visit & Live it Study Abroad Program. (2016)
 - SPAN 1001-UA and 1002-UA: Developed Elementary Spanish I and II Online courses, combining Heinle Cengage Learning Center course materials and a virtual classroom. Created the online portal, curriculum, format, projects, and exams (2013).
 - SPAN 2034, “Spanish for Criminal Justice” (Kennesaw State University): Updated the curriculum and developed new instructional units for this course, which introduces and refines basic skills in Spanish to facilitate communication between Criminal Justice personnel and non-English speaking Hispanics (2005).
 - Study Abroad Program, Oaxaca, Mexico (Kennesaw State University): Served as the recruiter, coordinator, and director of the 5-week program (2003).
 - Guest Teacher of ESOL at Instituto San Isidoro in Seville, Spain (1996).
